FINANCIAL POLICY & PATIENT AGREEMENT EXPLANATION

On August 21, 1996, President Clinton signed the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act known as HIPAA. This law impacts all areas of the health care industry and was designed to improve the efficiency of health care by standardizing the exchange of administrative and financial data, and to protect the privacy, confidentiality, and security of health care information. A major concern in the law was the security and privacy of electronic health records and their transmission between health care entities. The securities consist of more than just firewalls-organizations must ensure the confidentiality and integrity of their health records, and transmission of data must be authenticated and have the property of nonrepudiation. Additionally, security policies and procedures must be documented and implemented.

TrustCare has a policy requiring all employees to read and sign a confidentiality agreement. This agreement states that the employee understands that we process confidential data, and that the employee agrees not to directly or indirectly disclose any information in an inappropriate manner. (TrustCare) aggressively enforces this and other agreements with entities to which we transmit transactions or from which we receive transactions, such as clearinghouses. (TrustCare) will neither pursue nor knowingly retain a customer relationship with an entity that is either unwilling or unable to concur with reasonable privacy obligations.

TrustCare recognizes that the transfer of medical data must be carried out in a manner that minimizes the risks of inappropriate disclosure, and that safeguards the privacy and confidentiality of data that may identify individuals in their rules as patients and consumers. TrustCare's corporate policy is to observe all existing state and federal laws and regulations relating to the transmission, storage, and access to records and other health care data, and to maintain the security and confidentiality of patient-specific information.

If you belong to a plan we are not contracted with, our insurance/billing office will be glad to file a claim for you with the understanding that full payment is due at the time of service. Your claim will most likely be applied toward your out-of-network benefits or totally rejected. It is important for you to understand that the patient is ultimately responsible for the fees that are not covered by the provider in this case. If you have any questions concerning the contract your plan has with TrustCare, please call your insurance company.

The responsible party will also be responsible for any durable medical equipment (splints, crutches, ace wraps, walking boots, etc) and medications that are not covered by the insurance plan or applied towards the deductible. This is also applicable to items not covered by Medicaid. These will be payable at the time of service. All HMO/ Community Care (Medicaid) members are required to contact their primary care physicians for obtaining a referral within 48 hours.
